CHANGE THEORY
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—experiments with mental patients and children show that releasing anger on punching bags, or with toy guns in the case of children, does not mean that a person's aggression has been relieved and that he will be less inclined to fight in the future. The analysis was made by Dr. Lincoln D. Clark, associate professor of psychiatry at the University of Utah College of Medicine.

In fact, he added, "Mental patients who practice with punching bags just have better aim, and children who play with toy weapons have more fights than children who don't." The need that must be satisfied, he said, is removal of any threat to security.

Miss Martha Uel Olive Becomes Bride Of Mr. Caldwell In Brilliant Ceremony

Slender gleaming tapers set in branched candelabra banked with white flocked pine, magnolia blossoms, white poinsettias, and white satin bows, along with floor baskets of white chrysanthemums and greenery framed a setting of serene beauty for the holiday wedding on Tuesday evening, December 27, at 7:30 o'clock of Miss Martha Uel Olive and Robert Walker Caldwell. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Uel Olive of Exchange street, Mrs. Howard Caldwell of South Home street and Robert Harvey Caldwell of Fulton.

Setting for the double ring ceremony was the First Methodist Church with the Rev. C. D. Goodwin, church pastor, officiating.

Adding further beauty to the sanctuary were green boxwood wreaths sparkled with gold and tied with white bridal cord hung above the altar, the similar twined chancel rail, the altar vases filled with white mums and carnations, the white carpeted aisle lined with hurricane style lights twined with smilax and the families pews marked with white mums and ribbons.

A prelude of organ music was softly played by Mrs. Robert Cultra Sr., who wore a dress in a soft shade of green with a delicate lace top and with a rose pink camellia corsage at her shoulder. Her selections included "Serenade from Student Prince" (Romberg) and "More" (Ortonal and Oliviero). Miss Mary Ann Dunn, wearing a white crepe frock trimmed in gold, accented with a rose pink camellia, was vocalist. Accompanied by Mrs. Cultra she sang "Whither Thou Goest" (Singer), "Because" (D'Hardelot), and at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer" (Mollette).

Strains of the traditional Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" (Wagner) signaled the approach of the bridesmaids, Miss Belinda Hart of Union City, Miss Judy Cooper of Humboldt, and Miss Molly Jenkins of Wayneboro, Tenn., the matron of honor, Mrs. Bill Teuton of Chattanooga, sister of the bride; and the little flower girls, Dawn and Leigh Teuton, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Teuton and nieces of the bride.

The lovely attendants wore identical empire floor length dresses of moss green satin with scoop necklines and chandelier sleeves. Their shoes were in a matching shade, their headpieces were circlets of green veiling attached to satin bows, and they carried moss green candles set in green squares of velvet ribbon and net with gold pompon mums and leatherleaf. The flower girls, dressed in similar frocks but with heavy lace trim about the necklines, carried white baskets filled with rose petals.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT WALKER CALDWELL

All wore short white gloves. Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was enchanting in a gown of white silk peau de soie fashioned with a basque bodice, secured down the back with tiny buttons, a scoop neckline outlined with hand-run Alencon lace reembodyered in seed pearls, and elbow length sleeves edged in lace. Her A-line skirt, with sprays of lace extending down the sides, swept to a full chapel train. A shell of Alencon lace and peau de soie reembodyered in pearls held the elbow length veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses, puffs of net, and satin leaves centered with a pure white orchid.

Robert Harvey Caldwell served his son as best man and ushers were Raymond B. Pearigen and Richard Artis Beach of Union City, Edgar Leroy Yandell Jr. of Knoxville, Bill Lyle Teuton of Chattanooga, a brother-in-law of the bride, and Marvin Adkins of Cookeville and Hendon O. Wright II of Monterey, Calif., brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

Hendon O. Wright III, a nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Olive chose an exquisite ice green three-piece silk suit, the jacket featuring pearl and sequin trim on the collar and cuffs. She wore matching green pumps, a tiny hat of green velvet leaves, pearlized flowers and veiling, white gloves and a white cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Howard Caldwell's beautiful three-piece aqua silk suit underlined with an Italian lace overblouse in aqua was worn with matching pumps, white gloves, and a white cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Herman Howard, grandmother of the bridegroom, was attired in a mauve rose crepe sheath with a small hat to match. Her corsage was an orchid cymbidium.

Mrs. Harvey Caldwell of Fulton, wore a small flowered hat in shades of pink to complement her blue chiffon dress, topped with a lace jacket and her pink cymbidium shoulder corsage.

As the traditional Wedding March from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn) was played, the bride and groom, their attendants left the sanctuary for a reception held in the church dining room and hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Olive.

The bride's table, a scene of beauty, was overlaid with white satin and net, draped with string smilax and pink camellias, and caught at each corner with large white satin balls. Centering the table was a tall epergne holding slender white tapers and an arrangement of pink and white roses. The three-tiered colonnade wedding cake was at one end of the table placed opposite a crystal bowl filled with punch. Salted nuts and pastel mints were served from silver compotes.

Mrs. Marvin Adkins of Cookeville presided at the punch service. Mrs. H. O. Wright II of Monterey, Calif., served the cake, and others assisting were Miss Betty Cowden of Dyer, Mike Cox of Union City, Mrs. James Chappell and Mrs. Bernie Powers of Martin, Mrs.

Kenneth Cooley of Atlanta, and Mrs. Edgar Yandell Jr. of Knoxville. Mrs. Bobby Nichols of Union City, presided at the register. All were wearing pretty holiday frocks with corsages of white carnations.

When the couple left on a honeymoon to the Smoky Mountains the bride was wearing a smart three-piece gold wool suit trimmed in suede, complemented with gold suede pumps and a purse with lizard trim, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet pinned at her shoulder.

They now live at 1731 Lake Avenue, Knoxville where both are students at the University of Tennessee.

Among out of town guests attending the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rodgers, Betty Lou and Joe Rodgers of Nashville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jeter of Dresden, Mr. and Mrs. Hendon Wright, Mrs. Horton Baird, Mrs. Frank Beades, Mrs. Lillian Blagg, Mr. and Mrs. James Blagg, and Bill Bennett, all of Fulton.

FULTON, Ky. — Mr. and Mrs. Sam Flowers of Union City Rt. 3, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Joseph James Bavido Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bavido of River Grove, Ill.

Miss Flowers was graduated from South Fulton High School and is now a secretary for Mehring and Hanson-Weldt Inc., of Chicago.

The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Leyden High School at River Grove and will receive his degree from the University of Illinois at Chicago in February.

He is the grandson of Mrs. Emma Bavido and Mrs. Mary Loria of Chicago.

The couple will be married Feb. 4 in the St. Cyprian Church at River Grove.

Tennessee Industrial Growth Has Set A Record In 1966

NASHVILLE — Mrs. C. Frank Scott, state employment security commissioner, reported Friday Tennessee had a record year in economic expansion and employment growth.

Tennessee's non-farm payrolls in 1966 increased by 70,200 persons and the number of persons on industrial payrolls during the past month climbed to 1,216,500, Mrs. Scott said.

The commissioner said every industry except mining showed payroll gains.

The number of persons receiving wages from non-agricultural industries has been increasing steadily since the total of non-farm employment reached the 1 million mark in June 1963, Mrs. Scott said.

The commissioner reported payroll gains of 18,800 for durable goods; major manufacturing gains included electrical machinery, 7,800; chemicals, 5,200 and apparel, 3,200.

Mrs. Scott said that although there are indications the industrial growth rate will level off there is "every indication" durable goods producers will continue to expand their operations during the coming year.

She said average weekly earnings for Tennessee factory workers last month were $90.61 as compared to $89.38 for October.

Graves County Is Second In Area For Adding Jobs

Ed. Note — The following article is the first of a weekly series to be published in the Mayfield Messenger to point out economic growth in Mayfield and Graves County for the period 1950-64. All facts and figures presented herein were compiled in a study entitled "Development Potentials For Kentucky Counties With Related Statistics" by the University of Kentucky's College of Business and Economics.)

The rise in manufacturing employment in any given community is an index of success of both the community's industrial promotional activities and its actual economic progress.

Graves County added 295 new manufacturing jobs for workers from 1960-64 to rank second only to Marshall County in the eight-county Western Kentucky area during this period.

Marshall County's vast chemical manufacturing complex at Calvert City was the primary reason for 672 new industrial opportunities there to boost the county into the lead in this area in the number of new jobs available.

McCracken County's loss of 621 such jobs accounted for the greatest single county loss in the eight-county area during the four-year period.

Hickman County 63, Fulton 44

CLINTON, Ky. — Hickman County edged ahead in the second period and blew the game wide open in the last half to down Fulton City 63-44 here Friday night.

The Falcons trailed 16-15 after one period of play but forged ahead 24-22 late in the second quarter and never trailed again as Joe Barclay tallied 23 points to lead all scoring for the host Falcons as they outscored the visitors 33-20 in the final half.

Alan Barclay and Shelly Barclay each added 13 to the Falcon attack.

Mike Riddle paced the Bulldogs with 19, Paul Pittman added 10.

The Falcons hit a poor 38 per cent from the field but Fulton managed only 29 per cent.

Hickman hit 14 of 25 from the gratis stripe and Fulton had 16 of 22.

HICKMAN, Ky. — The Fulton County Pilots edged Carlisle County 54-52 here Friday night on Richard Cagle's two free tosses with two seconds remaining.

For the Pilots it marked the first time they had defeated the Comets since the 1962 District Tournament.

Cagle's heroics capped a torrid final two minutes of play that found both teams unable to hit after Barry Jenkins had tied it at 52-52 with 2:15 remaining.

After Jenkins tied the score the Pilots were unable to take advantage of an opportunity. Carlisle then missed a shot with :34 seconds showing on the clock and the Pilots held the ball for 24 seconds before missing with 10 seconds remaining. Cagle then shot with two seconds left but was fouled and hit both gratis shots.

The Pilots led at every quarter stop, 11-5, 32-21, and 48-40 but Carlisle's hot hand in the final period nearly turned the trick.

Fulton County's Steve Shelton, a 5-9 guard who had been out of action since early in the campaign, returned briefly, contributed six points and seemed to be coming back to his original form.

The big scorer for the Pilots was Marion Warren with 14, Cagle added 13.

For Carlisle Leroy Partin turned in 17 and Jenkins added 16.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Father Gerald Glahn.

Bouquets of red poinsettias interspersed with greenery graced the altar, and family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Miss Brenda Jackson presented a program of wedding music preceding and during the ceremony.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was her maid of honor, Miss Laura Faye Quillen, wearing a two-piece suit of white wool with blue accessories.

The bride was wearing a white ribbed knit dress with matching coat and shoulder length veil. Jerry McIntyre of Memphis, Tenn., attended his brother as best man.

Mrs. Will Woods, grandmother of the bride, wore a pale blue dress with black accessories.

Mrs. McIntyre chose for her son's wedding a royal blue three-piece suit with black accessories.

Insurance Firm Barred In Kentucky

FRANKFORT — State Insurance Commissioner S. Roy Woodall says the Capitol Life Insurance Co. of America has been refused the right to operate in Kentucky because it failed to meet the capitalization requirements.

The new Louisville-based firm withdrew its application Wednesday.

In the order, Woodall said he "specially reserves the right to rule on all other aspects of the applicant's proposed plan of operation should a new application be filed."

The amount of capital and surplus required for a life insurance company to conduct business in Kentucky was raised to $1,250,000 last year by the legislature.

Woodall said he notified the company Dec. 30, the deadline he set previously, that total funds deposited with the state from sale of stock still was $405,150 short of the required sum and that the application would be denied if the balance wasn't turned in by Jan. 3.

LONDON — The British Museum has printed a general catalogue of the 4 million printed books in its collection. The 163-volume work — compiled at a cost of $4,786 a set — was printed from a continuous film record made by a special camera.

BOLD SLACKS

Men's slack fashions for Fall-Winter 1966 are more imaginative and daring than ever! Two fabrics, corduroy and hopsack, are generating the biggest excitement in texture.

According to Jaymar-Ruby, Inc., men can expect more emphasis on coordinating slacks with sport jackets, sweaters and blazers of the same color family, one garment in pattern and other in a solid color.

ST. CROIX, U.S. Virgin Islands—Under Danish ownership St. Croix became the richest sugar island in the Caribbean. It reached its peak of wealth about 1796, when it had 114 windmills and 144 animal-powered mills grinding out the golden juice.

Cooper Opposes Tax Boost Calls For Fiscal Restraint

Money Issue Is Termed As Serious

WASHINGTON

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., expressed opposition Saturday to any general tax increase until an intensive effort is made to reduce government spending.

"We've had monetary restraints, in the way of high interest rates," said Cooper, "but on the other side, we haven't had fiscal restraint."

"I don't want to see any tax increase until that effort is made."

Cooper said in an interview that a tax increase "only means taking money away from the people and giving it to the government to spend."

But fiscal restraint, on the other hand, could have an effect on inflation, he said.

Cooper said he regards the fiscal issue as one of the three most serious confronting the new Congress convening Tuesday. The two others, he said, are the Vietnam war and poverty.

The money issue, he said, must be approached with the purpose of restraining inflation and "bringing down high interest rates affecting business and growth of the economy."

Seeks Probe Report

He said he regards Vietnam

as the biggest issue at present but ventured the view that "what Congress can do about it is doubtful."

In this connection he said that in the new session he will press for a report from a special investigating group named by President Johnson to study the foreign aid program on a country-by-country basis rather than as an over-all program.

Cooper said that in appointing the study group, headed by James Perkins, president of Cornell University, Johnson had acted on Cooper's suggestion of some time ago.

Cooper said that if a close study had been made of assistance of South Vietnam under the foreign aid program in 1959-61 the trend of events since then might have been different. Looking back, he said, it appears that some progress was made in Vietnam with U.S. funds for a time, but that the program then seemed to bog down.

"If the aid had been cut off then, we might not be in the difficulties we find ourselves in now," said Cooper.

As to current hostilities in Vietnam, Cooper said he has favored negotiating a peace from the very beginning of the conflict.

In reference to proposed cessation of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, he said he would favor such action if there were indications it would lead to peace negotiations.

"But if not, then we have to do whatever is necessary in a military way," he added.

REVERSIBLE—Tops in versatility is the tunic apron with a flip side. Stripes and polka dots in navy and gold cotton team up for one look while the reverse side is all polka dots. Giant cotton rick-rack joins the contrasting fabrics in front.
